NAZI TROOPS CONFER

Brownshirts And Steelhelmets

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Berlin, July 6.
The recent differences between the Stormtroops and the steelhelmets have been amicably settled by a conference between the new Brownshirt Chief of Staff, Lutze, and the Steelhelmet commander, Reich Minister Seidte.

Seidte on Friday outlined the new rapprochement between the two organisations before a special convention here of all provincial leaders of the Steelhelmet society—which is also known as the National-Socialist league of front fighters and nominally incorporated in the Stormtroops as a reserved division. Seidte told the assembly of his conversation with Lutze, which had produced a certainty that in future no impediments would be laid down to fraternal co-operation between the Stormtroops and the Steelhelmets and co-operation actually encouraged.

The assembly closed with a spontaneous declaration of loyalty to Adolf Hitler.—Transocean Kuo Min.

ARRESTED MEN RELEASED

Berlin, July 6.
Three members of the staff of the vice-Chancellor, von Papen, Fritz Guethner von Tschirschy—who was erroneously reported to have been shot—Karl von Savigny and Baroness Margarete von Stotzingen, all three of whom were arrested during last Saturday's clean-up action, have been released after having been ascertained that they had no connection whatsoever with the traitors.—Transocean Kuo Min.

STATEMENT BY LUTZE

Berlin, July 6.
Under the striking headline "What will become of the Stormtroops," the National-Socialist organ "Angriff" publishes an interview with the new Brownshirt Chief of Staff, Lutze, filling the entire front page. The Stormtroop commander emphasises that "no Stormtrooper supported the traitor, Roehm, the whole affair amounting purely to the revolt leaders. The Stormtroops really have no reason themselves to feel ashamed because a small circle of their former leaders committed treason."

Concerning the expected reformation of the Stormtroop forces, the official interviewer was unable to obtain detailed information but reports of the new leader's vigorous assurance that a definite shake-up was planned. "Lutze firmly expressed the conviction that the re-organisation must be carried out which the possibility of a reduction in the numbers of Stormtroops was not entirely excluded."—Transocean Kuo Min.

"TALE OF A TRAITOR"

Berlin, July 7.
All written works of the dead rebel leader of the Stormtroops, Ernst Roehm, headed by an autobiography with a curiously fateful title "Tale of a Traitor" were withdrawn from the German book trade by order of the Society of German Booksellers on Saturday. The Society's regulation declares "as a matter of course all the works of any guilty of high treason whether self-written or provided by him with a preface, may no longer be published, delivered and sold."—Transocean Kuo Min.

M. BARTHOU'S VISIT

Discussion With Britain

London, July 7.

Sir John Simon, Foreign Secretary, will personally welcome French Foreign Minister, M. Barthou on his arrival in London late to-morrow night. Conversations will begin on Monday at the Foreign Office and after the morning session a Government luncheon to the visitors will be given. In the evening a dinner and reception will be held at the French Embassy.

M. Barthou's visit will conclude on Tuesday afternoon. He and other delegates will be the guests of Mr. Stanley Baldwin in luncheon at No. 11 Downing Street on that day.

The "Times" commenting on the visit assures M. Barthou of a warm welcome and emphasises that the object of the visit is to examine with members of the British Cabinet the European problems as a whole in the spirit of friendship which unites the two countries. It adds, "that any talk of an alliance between Britain and France is altogether beside the mark."

The journal proceeds: "The present policy of Britain in Europe was defined afresh recently by Sir John Simon in the House of Commons. The British Government, though ready to be represented on the committee which is enquiring at Geneva into the question of security, will not expect a new regional agreement now being discussed to be one to which they themselves could adhere. They consider their existing commitments under the Locarno Treaty to be quite a sufficient contribution to such systems. M. Barthou thus arrives here fully cognisant of the British view. He comes rather to explain French plans and perhaps to give some account of his own recent activities in Central and Eastern Europe."—British Wireless.

R.A.O.B. AT HOME

To Friends From
"Wild Swan"

A farewell Social Evening and Games Tournament was given by the R.A.O.B. Club on Sunday evening last, to the departing seamen of the H.M.S. "Wild Swan" and a most pleasurable time was spent, both by the competitors in the games of billiards, snooker, crib and darts, and by those who watched the keen and friendly rivalry.

Though the sailors were heavily beaten in the first three of these games, they were undaunted, and reversed the decision in the darts games in which they took 5 points to 2. The crib competitions saw them heavily defeated by 7 points to 3, and they were successful in only one game of snooker, whilst at billiards they were badly out-pointed.

Some fine play was seen in the various ball games, Lavers (R.A.O.B.) winning the closest game of the evening by one point from Ford (Wild Swan). Mr. F. V. Mound secured two valuable points for the Club by beating Dumford in the billiards match by 31 points, and Burden in a snooker game by 37 points, an outstanding brilliant performance. Drury (Wild Swan) secured the naval competitors' only point at snooker when he beat Pearce by 17 points.

Detailed results of the billiards and snooker were:—

WIMBLEDON TRIUMPHS

Fred Perry And Miss Round

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

London, July 7.

The women's singles championship of the Wimbledon tournament also became English property on Saturday when Miss Dorothy Round topped Perry's victory over Crawford by smashing her way to a sensational triumph in the final of the Women's singles, vanquishing the favourite, Miss Helen Jacobs of America, 6-2, 5-7, 6-3.

The United States, however, came in for share of honours later, when Lott and Stoeffen beat the French pair, Borotra and Brugnon 6-2, 6-3, 6-4, to carry off the Men's Doubles title.

The Franco-American team, Mme. Mathieu and Miss Elizabeth Ryan had little difficulty in annexing the women's doubles crown, defeating their fellow countrywomen, Mrs. Andrus and Mlle. Henrotin, 6-3, 6-3.

Miss Round made her own day a complete triumph when teamed with Miki of Japan, they out fought Mrs. Shepherd-Barron and Bunny Austin to take the second title of the day—the Mixed Doubles.

At the end of the day's play, both the English new world champions, Fred Perry and Miss Dorothy Round were together introduced to their majesties the King and Queen, who had witnessed the day's play, and received congratulations from the Royal couple.—Transocean Kuo Min.

London, July 7.

In brilliant sunshine, with Their Majesties the King and Queen present as spectators, Miss Dorothy Round (Britain) established herself as the Women's Singles Champion at Wimbledon, to-day by defeating Miss Jacobs (America) 6-2, 5-7, 6-3.

Miss Jacobs took the first game on her service but the British player was full of confidence, and made light of her American opponent's heavily chopped drives.

Miss Round, served well, and achieved greater speed with her classic driving than she has ever done before. Coolly slinging her winning shots, she often struck the chalk on the baseline, and twice appeared to the favoured with doubtful decisions before winning at 6-2.

In the second set Miss Jacobs increased the speed of her chop stroke, and frequently her play produced some very daring angles. The scores went from 2-1, 3-2, to 5-3, but Miss Round then recovered—magnificently, and hitting winners down the sidelines, evened the score at 5-5.

After drawing level with her opponent she slowed down her play, which proved fatal, Miss Jacobs winning 7-5.

At the opening of the third set Miss Round led 1-0, and continued to play far better, tennis than her rival. She kept up a constant barrage of excellent drop shots, half volleys and drives, always seeking the American's backhand corner. She won the final set after only nine games.

She fully deserved her win, which is the first British victory since 1926, and the first time Britain has secured both the men's and women's titles in the same year since 1909.

WOMEN'S DOUBLES

In the Women's Doubles Final Mme. Mathieu and Miss Elizabeth Ryan retained their title when they beat Miss Andrus and Mlle. Henrotin (holders) by 6-3, 6-3.

It was Miss Ryan's 26th appearance in a Wimbledon Final, and her triumph represented her 13th victory. The standard of play, however, was not up to the usual standard.

Miss Ryan, who displayed some very fine volleying, was the best player on the court, controlling the situation throughout. It is a notable fact that both pairs in the Final were Franco-American.

MIXED DOUBLES

In the final of the Mixed Doubles, R. Miki Japanese ace and Miss Dorothy Round defeated Bunny Austin and Mrs. Steppard Barron 3-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Miki smashed brilliantly, and Miss Round's classic driving and net play proved altogether too strong for Austin and Mrs. Sheppard Barron, the latter being the weakest of the four, causing the winners to play continuously on her, although Austin did his best to intercept at the net.

MEN'S DOUBLES

George Lott and Lester Stoeffen, the favoured American pair, beat

GERMAN SHARE MARKET

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Berlin, July 6.

Better prices for special investments were the feature of the sharemarket on Friday when there was a new upward tendency which was due to the settlement of the transfer difficulties with Great Britain and to the agreement reached in the German-Swiss negotiations respecting international payments between the two countries.

Increased sales of cement and consumption of electrical power is indicated by the improvement of the internal economic situation. Fixed interest securities were in limited demand but prices were buoyant. Call money 4 per cent.

The amount of business transacted during the week was unusually small chiefly because in the early part of the week, the fate of the London transfer conference was unsettled and also largely because this is the season when the great annual holiday migration is going on. After the settlement of the transfer problem with Great Britain prices improved though business was still confined within narrow limits. The improvement chiefly affected shares which were popular favourites with the general investor.

The fixed interest securities market was dull throughout although after the transfer settlement, mortgage bonds and provincial loans improved appreciably.—Transocean Kuo Min.

GERMAN SHARE MARKET

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Berlin, July 6.

The first official estimates of this year's German harvest show the yield to be well below the record crops of 1933 but only a shade under the average of the last ten years. The provincial figures for the coming harvest of wheat and rye amounts to 11.37 million tons as compared with the average of 11.40 for the decade between 1924 and 1933. The barley estimate reckons on 2.91 as against the ten-year average of 2.93 million tons while the oats yield, on the other hand, may run as much as 22 per cent. behind.

It is emphasised that the estimates were based on observations made on July 1 with almost the entire harvest still in the fields so that the normal weather of the next few weeks with increased rainfall can greatly increase all yields, especially the oat crop.—Transocean Kuo Min.

S.C.A.A. LADIES WIN RELAY

Chinese B. C. Monthly Swimming Gala

Some very keen swimming was witnessed at the Chinese Bathing Club on Saturday night when a large gathering of members and friends saw the South China Athletic Association's Ladies defeat the Chinese Bathing Club Ladies in the Open Ladies' Relay, through a very fine individual effort by Miss Yeung Sau-kin, Chinese lady champion.

Another fine race was seen in the 200 Metres Breast Stroke, when Mui Chi-cheung, of the Chinese Far Eastern Olympic team, who, three weeks ago was just beaten by Chan Fook-sing at South China's Charity Gala, beat Tsang Ho-fook by a small margin in 3 mins. 3-3/5 seconds. This better the Chinese National record of 3 mins. 5-1/5 seconds but it is very unlikely that it will be recognised as the swim took part in the sea with currents.

The Ladies Relay was easily the outstanding event on the programme and the race fluctuated in such manner that the result was in doubt till the last 10 metres of the race.

Results follow:—
150 metres relay (women's):—
South China Athletic Association.

50 metres handicap small boys and girls:—

1. Or Shui-lo; 2. Ng Kam-fan; and 3. Chien Kam-cheung. Also swim: Or Shui-yuen.

Novelty race:—

COUNTY CRICKET SCORES

The following were the cricket scores at close of play to-day:—
Sussex: 461 for 6 v. Essex.
Yorkshire: 363 for 9 (Mitchell 161) v. Surrey.
Gloucestershire: 308 Gloucester: 88 for 2.
Hampshire: 419 for 5 (Mead 198) v. Kent.
Lancashire: 385 for 5 (Tyldesley 122) v. Northants.
Notts: 329 for 4 (Harris 102) v. Warwick.
Derbyshire: 306 Worcester: 48 (Mitchell 8 for 22).
Ernest Tyldesley's century was the 100th of his career.—Reuter.

"LEG THEORY" ARGUMENT

London, July 7.
"Lancashire are afraid of fast bowling, and forget Macdonald," declared Arthur Carr, the former England captain and present Notts skipper to-day.

He added that there was never any attempt at leg theory bowling during the recent Notts and Lancashire match at Trent Bridge, and, although a few of the Lancashire batsmen were struck on the legs, that was only to be expected when a fast bowler was making the ball come back.—Reuter.

MEDITERRANEAN CHIEF OF STAFF

Captain C. D. S. Ralke, D.S.O., whose appointment as Chief of Staff in the Mediterranean dates from to-day, will be returning to the station on which his last sea service was performed in command of the cruiser Sussex in 1928-30. He has since commanded the boys' training establishment, St. Vincent, at Gosport, and for the past two years has been Director of the R.N. Staff College, Greenwich. On his arrival at Malta he will relieve Rear-Admiral A. E. F. Bedford, C.B., who in November is to assume command of the Royal Indian Marine.

Captain Ralke will have the rank of commodore, second class, in his new post, which has usually been the prelude to higher advancement. Among those who have been C.O.s, Mediterranean, during the last 12 years are Vice-Admiral Sir Barry Domville, now commanding at Greenwich, Vice-Admiral Sir Dudley Pound, Second Sea Lord, Vice-Admiral Wilfrid Tomkinson, late in command of the Battle Cruiser Squadron, and Vice-Admiral W. M. James, who now commands that squadron.

Captain Ralke commanded submarines during the War, and in 1922 was the first C.O. of X 1, the experimental vessel which was then the largest submarine in the world, a distinction now held by the French Surcouf. In 1928 he studied at the Imperial Defence College.

CRUISER RECOMMISSIONS

The cruiser Emerald will recommission at Chatham to-day for service in the East Indies after undergoing large repairs. Captain J. G. Grace, late Director of the Tactical Division, will command her, and Commander T. O. Roberts, last of the flotilla-leader Wallace; Lieutenant A. F. Matheson (G), late second gunnery officer in the cruiser London; Lieutenant D. G. Clark (T), who has been on the staffs of the Vernon and Defiance since completing the torpedo course two years ago; and Commander (E) R. T. Grogan, promoted last year, and formerly serving at Chatham Barracks. The accountant officer in the new commission will be Paymaster Commander L. V. Webb, O.B.E., late secretary to the Captain-in-Charge at Singapore naval base.

REGULATIONS FOR SALUTES

Amendments to the regulations in regard to salutes provide that in future all officers and ratings, whether ashore or on board, are to salute, if wearing headdress, at "Colours," or when a National Anthem is played, unless they are fallen in, when they will be called to attention, the officer or rating in charge alone saluting. Article 154 (2) and (3) has been amended so as to remove any impression that a different procedure is required of ratings ashore according to whether they are standing about or walking about. All ratings ashore, whether singly or in

76,000 SEE THE TATTOO

Huge Crowd On The Opening Night

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 20.

The remarkable success already achieved by this year's Aldershot Tattoo is revealed by the official figures of the attendance at the first performance yesterday evening and at the daylight and evening rehearsals.

Last night there were 76,000 spectators, who were brought to Aldershot in 59 special trains from all over the country, in addition to the ordinary train services, and 9,450 road vehicles. For the first performance last year the figures were 68,000 spectators, 8,000 vehicles and 54 special trains.

All this, enormous amount of traffic was so skilfully handled that not a single mishap of any kind occurred. Everyone was clear of the enclosures and the car park within 45 minutes of the conclusion of the programme, with the exception of those who preferred to stay for a dance in the huge marquee in the grounds.

To date 162,000 spectators, as against 140,000 at the corresponding period last year, have seen the performance by the 5,000 soldier actors.

Field Marshal Viscount Allenby took the salute last night. Next Saturday the Queen and other members of the Royal Family hope to be present at the concluding performance. Every bookable seat has been taken.

Police In White Smocks

Staines saw the greatest congestion of the year yesterday, for it had to deal with the traffic not only for Aldershot, but also for the Runnymede Pageant at Egham. There was little delay, however, and hundreds of policemen patiently shepherded motor-coaches and cars.

Beyond Staines cars were able to "let out" and it was a perfectly free run through Bagshot, Camberley and Frimley. For miles before Aldershot there were traffic policemen stationed at every 50 yards, and the Surrey Special Constabulary paraded in full strength. The regular officers wore white smocks to help them control traffic in the darkness.

Once more the organisation at the arena and in the vast car park was faultless. There was not a seat left by the afternoon, but many people travelled from London prepared to stand throughout the performance.

Breakfast In The Woods

As the crowds surged out of the enclosures after the performance, some women and girls fainted in the crush of people, but the military police took the situation in hand and it never became serious. The route was carefully regulated, with the result that, except for the first portions of the journey, the road through to London, even passing through Staines, was fairly clear.

One reason for the easing of returning traffic was that some of the people, finding the night so beautiful, had supper, or early breakfast, in the woods at Aldershot and Bagshot, and thousands had ham and bacon in the roadside hostleries. Roadside cafes were crowded.

GOOD ADVERTISING

Opinion Of The Prince Of Wales

London, July 7.
The Prince of Wales was the guest of honour at the Advertising Association's dinner last night. In the course of his speech he said the production of goods was no longer a most pressing problem. Of late years "scientists and inventors had put into our hands the means of producing goods in quantities and at prices that would have staggered our forefathers."

Industrialists being "progressive people had naturally got on to these new discoveries and inventions and in Britain so far as production was concerned they were more than holding their own. The greatest problem to-day and probably for many years to come was to find a way to sell all goods received. Towards this end he was certain good advertising would play a very vital part. Good advertising went hand in hand with salesmanship.—British Wireless.

London, July 7.

Perfect weather conditions favoured the final day of Henley Regatta to-day.

Buhtz, famous German oarsman, accomplished what was expected of him when he beat Rutherford of Princeton University, America, by 3 1/4 lengths to win the Diamond Sculls in 8 mins. 10 secs. to equal the 29-year-old record.

In the race for the Silver Goblets, Germany, represented by Braun and Muller, beat the Bigland brothers, of the Royal Chester Rowing Club, by 1 1/4 lengths in 8 mins. 9 secs., which is one second over the record.

Jesus College, Cambridge, beat Trinity College, Dublin, by three feet to win the Ladies' Plate in 8 mins. 48 secs. to better the 1921 record of Pembroke College, Cambridge, by seven seconds.

Pembroke College, Cambridge, won the Stewards' Cup when they beat the London Rowing Club "A," who failed to finish owing to the fact that one of their oarsmen caught a crab and the boat hit the booms. The winners' time was 7 mins. 24 secs., which was 12 secs. better than the record established in 1925.

The Leander Club, who broke the course record in the heats, beat the Princeton University crew for custody of the Grand Challenge

Cup, winning by threequarters of a length in 8 mins. 45 secs.

First Trinity College, Cambridge, beat University College, Oxford, by two-thirds of a length in 7 minutes 38 seconds to win the Visitors' Cup.

The Thames Rowing Club "B" team beat the London Rowing Club "B" by a third of a length in 7 minutes 4 seconds to win the Thames Cup.

In the race for the Wyfold Cup, the Reading Rowing Club beat the Royal Chester Rowing Club by 1 1/2 lengths in 7 minutes 39 seconds.—Reuter.

BARRIE PLAY FOR MISS BERGNER

Sir James Barrie is writing a three-act play for Miss Elisabeth Bergner for production in London early next year.

Miss Bergner has discussed the matter with Sir James Barrie, and has even offered to overcome the language difficulty if it should be found necessary for her to speak Scots. The draft of the play, however, provides her with an English-speaking part.

This production will follow the forthcoming visit to America of Miss Bergner in Escape Me Never, at present running at the Apollo Theatre.

"I suffered unnecessary pains since I was 15"

"Kalzana tablets are a boon to such girls as myself who suffer a great deal of pain at certain periods. I have suffered these unnecessary pains since I was fifteen years of age, as a matter of course. Kalzana has done for me all it claims to do and I only wish I had heard of the preparation before."
Miss M.A.—L.

Why suffer these periodic complaints and irregularities? They can so easily be overcome. For they mean that your body lacks sufficient calcium and simply by taking "Kalzana," the Calcium food, this necessary element will be brought into your system and you will very soon enjoy undisturbed health. Being a food, "Kalzana" is absolutely harmless and is frequently prescribed by leading physicians.

Of all Chemists

Kalzana

THE CALCIUM FOOD

The opinion of well-known medical papers about KALZANA:

"The Pharmaceutical Journal of New Zealand," Jan. 1930.

"Kalzana has been used with very good results in cases of calcium deficiency, such as bone diseases, dental caries, rickets, weakness in growing children, during pregnancy and lactation—in fact, in all cases where a diet with an excessive calcium content is necessary. Rickets too are a typical sign of a lack of calcium. Kalzana will set all that right, and very soon your child will be happy and healthy again."

"The British Journal of Tuberculosis," April 1929:

"We have employed Kalzana with much advantage in the management of delicate children. It seems to be of considerable service in cases of rickets and other morbid conditions of bone and also as a preventive of dental caries. For pregnant women Kalzana is often beneficial."

Weakness due to Lack of Calcium

Kalzana will quickly overcome all kinds of weakness due to lack of calcium such as—

General Debility

Kalzana strengthens the cells of nerves, bones and blood and has a remarkable tonic effect on your health.

Weak Teeth

Weak, decaying teeth are simply under-nourished teeth. They lack calcium, the food that makes the teeth strong and healthy. Weak teeth are a constant cause of pain and trouble. Moreover, they mar the beauty of your face. Start taking Kalzana, the Calcium food, and make your teeth strong and white again.

Signs of Old Age

Kalzana lowers high blood pressure, strengthens the heart-muscle and stimulates the action of the internal organs.

How KALZANA acts—

Your body is built up of millions of living cells, the vital part of which is dependent upon Calcium for its health. Any shortage of Calcium weakens the whole constitution and causes disturbances in the functions of the internal organs, resulting in undue pains and excessive loss. Kalzana contains the extra calcium needed to overcome Calcium-deficiency—the root of your trouble—and so, in a natural way, will quickly bring you back to real, carefree health again.

"Kalzana is of great value in the treatment of menorrhagia and dysmenorrhoea (undue loss and pains)."

—writes the well-known medical paper "Medical Press and Circular."

KALZANA soothes Irritable Nerves

"Nerve-cells in order to function properly, must have their calcium," writes a well-known physician. Many cases of obstinate nerve-trouble can be traced to a lack of this all-important mineral. It may be "nerviness" in children, irritability in women, fatigue in men; it may show itself in any number of ways, such as lack of appetite, sleeplessness or headaches—nerves are at the bottom of it. By taking Kalzana you will correct any calcium shortage in the nerve cells. Your nerves will become healthy again and all symptoms of weakness will be rooted out.

I LOVED A WOMAN

Kay Francis At Her Best

Two of the truly great dramatic artists of the time are for the first time brought together as screen lovers in "I Loved A Woman," the first National picture which comes on Thursday to the Alhambra Theatre.

They are Edward G. Robinson and Kay Francis, each of whom has been starred separately in many pictures—in all of which they have given unforgettable characterizations.

With Genevieve Tobin, they play unique parts in the amazing love triangle of "I Loved A Woman." Miss Tobin is cast as the vindictive wife of the hero—content to wait a lifetime to avenge her wrongs.

As the rising operatic star, Miss Francis fires Robinson, as a wealthy young meat packer with her own ambition to gain power. Both in their own ways are utterly ruthless in battling for world conquest. Strangely enough, Robinson is later inspired by hatred for his inamorata instead of love—when he finds he himself is but one of her many lovers.

Outside of the romance the story reveals the dominating forces in the growth of the meat packing industry in the last forty years. There is a notable cast in addition to the principals which include J. Farrell MacDonald, Henry Kolker, Robert Barrat, George Blackwood, Murray Kinney, and Henry O'Neill. The screen play by Charles Kenyon and Sidney Sutherland is based on the story "Red Meat" by David Karsner, author of "Silver Dollar."

TWO BIG PARTS FOR CONRAD VEIDT

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 22. It will be some time before "Jew Suss" reaches our benighted part of the globe, writes a correspondent, but I hear that the Shepherd's Bush executives are already making plans to follow it up with two other important films in which Conrad Veidt will appear under the direction of Lothar Mendes.

Veidt will figure next as the ringleader of a band of convicts who make a bid for freedom from Devil's Island, the notorious French penal settlement. The story will be based on "King of the Damned," a stage play which has been running with much success in the West End.

This play so impressed G.-B. as a powerful vehicle for Conrad Veidt that "Micky" Balcon, director of productions, purchased the screen rights within 24 hours of its first appearance in London.

It will be Veidt's first film since he put his signature to the three-film contract which marked the end of a protracted struggle for his services between film interests on both sides of the Atlantic.

The other film G.-B. have in view is a talkie version—the first—of Tolstoy's "Anna Karenina," one of the world's greatest novels. It was filmed more than once as a silent, notably in 1927, when Greta Garbo appeared as the ill-fated Anna.

Rumour has it that the part will be taken by Madeleine Carroll, fresh from her Hollywood triumph in "The World Moves On." Veidt is to play Vronsky, Anna's lover.

NERO

Mascagni's New Opera To Be Produced In Milan

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 22. The first performance of "Nero," the new opera by Signor Pietro Mascagni, world-famous as the composer of "Cavalleria Rusticana," will take place at La Scala, Milan, during the next winter season.

Signor Mascagni signed the contract with representative of La Scala in Leghorn to-day.

The composer has been working on the idea of an opera on the subject of Nero for 30 years before completing it last year. The libretto is based on the tragedy by Goethe, giving a new conception of Nero's character. It is in three acts.

LAUGHING BOY

A Super-Production

To transfer characters from a book to the screen with the fidelity of real life so they can be recognised and loved by millions who know their story is the stirring production accomplished in "Laughing Boy," Indian drama based on the famous Pulitzer Prize story by Oliver La Farge. The new film drama, starring Ramon Novarro with Lupe Velez as leading lady, is showing to-day at the Queen's Theatre.

The picture, filmed by the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, presents one of the most powerful dramas of Indian life and love ever written. It deals in a startling manner with the Navajo Indian as a personality capable of strong feeling and great emotional climaxes.

As the young Indian, untamed and unused to love known by white men in civilized towns on the reservation, Ramon Novarro reaches new heights of penetrating appeal and restraint of deep feeling. His naive handling of early sequences provides a basis for one of the strongest dramatic climaxes ever filmed of a native people.

Lupe Velez sweeps through the most powerful role of her entire screen career as a young Indian woman who has tasted civilization and still wants the wild, primitive love of her own people. She is vivid, sparkling, and cuts into one climax after another with breathless strength of feeling.

One of the largest native casts ever assembled is seen in the picture with many scenes filmed on the actual reservation locale near Cameron, Arizona. Panoramas of vast buttes and desert canyons lend an authenticity to the story for startling realism on the screen.

Minor roles in the production are played by Ruth Channing as a young tourist, Ferdinand Munier providing comedy touches as a "tenderfoot" and William Davidson as the "heavy."

Col. W.S. Van Dyke, who has travelled to more remote corners of the earth than any other director, again scores with his powerful handling of a native story to add to his laurels won with "Trader Horn" and recently the smashing fight story, "Prizefighter and the Lady."

"3 ON A HONEY-MOON"

Zasu Pitts Makes Up Her Mind!

It's still a daily effort for Zasu Pitts, one of the most admired and personally popular actresses in Hollywood, to overcome her shyness.

"Oh, I'm much better than I used to be," she told Dally Eilers between scenes of "3 On A Honeymoon," their first picture together. "I used to slip off to the corner of the set between scenes and read books to cover my embarrassment at not being able to join in with the others in their discussions and jokes."

"Norma Talmadge is the person who insisted on my mending my ways. 'You can't do your best work unless you let down between scenes occasionally,' she told me. 'Don't be so bashful; speak right up whether you're right or wrong. You'll soon find it's fun, and you'll be able to go into the next scene with refreshed interest.'"

In "3 On A Honeymoon," coming to the King's Theatre, on Tuesday, Zasu is shown as a bashful old maid who not only makes up her own mind, but also that of a bashful swain.

Crash of Crockery

"It's just one dam Ming after another," as the Chinese housewife complained to the careless maid 600 years ago.

ALLEN JOINS ASTON VILLA

Fee Said To Be £11,000

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 22. J. Allen, the Portsmouth and English international centre half, was yesterday transferred to Aston Villa. It is understood that the fee amounted to £11,000, which exceeds by something like £1,000 the sums paid for some of the greatest players transferred during the past few years.

The news of Allen's transfer comes as a surprise seeing that on Monday Portsmouth announced that negotiations with the Villa had broken down and that Allen had resigned for his club. Allen is only 24.

Southport yesterday signed J. Proudfoot, inside forward, of Southend and formerly of Notts County and Barnsley, and E. Clement, full-back, of Yeovil, formerly of New Brighton.

REDHEADS ARE

LUCKY

So Joe Brown Thinks

Joe E. Brown is not superstitious, in spite of the fact that he has been in the show business since he was nine years old. He doesn't believe breaking a mirror means seven years of bad luck—spilling salt doesn't make him nervous—and he has an aversion to meeting black cats.

But there is one point on which Joe is, well, maybe, not exactly superstitious, but he has his own ideas about it. And that is concerning redheads. Joe says they're lucky to have around.

That's why you'll always find a red-headed property man on the set of a Joe E. Brown picture.

That's why Joe is especially happy about "Son of a Sailor" his latest First National comedy now showing at the Alhambra Theatre Kowloon. "Red" the property man with the company, is one of the reddest redheads you'll find in a day's journey. He's been with Joe on several other pictures. And when Joe learned that he would be available for "Son of a Sailor" his smile grew twice as broad as it usually is. And that's something coming from Joe E. Brown.

Much of the action of "Son of a Sailor" is laid abroad the U.S.S. "Saratoga," through the courtesy of the Navy Department and the Pacific fleet.

Jean Muir and Thelma Todd share the feminine interest in this latest Joe E. Brown laugh-drama, while others in the cast include Frank McHugh, Johnny Mack Brown, George Blackwood, Kenneth Thomson, Sheila Terry, Merna Kennedy, Samuel Hinds and Noel Francis. Lloyd Bacon directed the picture.

"THE WAY TO LOVE"

Chevalier Again

The popular idea that widely read novels supply material that is easily transferred to the screen is exploded by Benjamin Glazer co-author of "The Way to Love." Maurice Chevalier's current starring Paramount picture, now playing at the King's Theatre.

"In fact," says Glazer, who has spent considerable time studying what the public wants, "there is nothing so difficult to film as a 'best seller'."

Mr. Glazer is an author and producer for Paramount, and has written originals for the screen as well as having adapted such classics as "Farewell to Arms."

"Given a story, like Chevalier's 'The Way to Love,' an original for the screen," he declares, "audiences will accept the characters and background without question."

"On the other hand, each reader of a novel forms a definite idea as to what the pictured story should be like. If the screen interpretation doesn't conform to his notion he blames the producer."

"My advice is to get originals if possible."

Mr. Glazer wrote the original for "The Way to Love" with Gene Fowler, famous newspaper editor and author. The story tells of the adventures of a typical Parisian whose ambition in life is to become a guide to his beloved Paris, for he feels that his love for the city is so great that he alone can best interpret it. Ann Dvorak and Edward Everett Horton head the supporting cast. Norman Taurog directed the picture.

MARINE COURT CASES

Boarding Offence.
 Before Commander Hole at the Marine Court on Saturday morning, three Chinese named Chan Lai Fai 21, Sin Fat Chat 25, and Chan Cho Hing 30, all described as unemployed, were charged with boarding the s.s. President Coolidge last Friday morning, without having the written permission of the master or the officer-on-duty.

It was stated that the defendants were seen walking around the ship and had practically nothing to do. When they were arrested and asked for their permits, none of them could produce it.

The defendants pleaded guilty and told his Worship that they could not find any employment in the Colony, so they boarded the steamer in the hope of getting some work to do.

The Magistrate however, imposed a fine of $10 or one week hard labour each.

NO NAVIGATION LIGHT

For failing to carry a navigation light in front of the mast of his motor boat, while underway in the Victoria Harbour last Friday night, Tang Kwong, coxswain of the motor boat, Woo Sang, was fined $10 or in default one week hard labour.

RIDING UNDER VERANDAH

Chinese Youth Fined
 A fine of $5 or in default one week's hard labour was imposed by Mr. Lee at the Kowloon Police Court on Saturday morning, on a Chinese youth named Tang Man, who was charged with unlawfully riding his bicycle under the verandah of the Peking and Kwangtung Roads, Tsim-sha-tui, last Friday evening.

The prosecuting officer stated that the accused was rather a nuisance as there were so many pedestrians passing along the verandah all the time.

The defendant pleaded guilty to the charge.

KEEPING SLY-BROTHERS

Chinese Keepers Fined
 As a result of Police raids on Friday night, two men named Leung Cheong, and Chan Fook and a woman Pang Ngan, appeared before Mr. Lee at the Kowloon Magistracy last Saturday morning, on charges of keeping sly-brothers at No. 20, 1st floor, No. 234, ground floor, Temple Street and No. 8, 1st floor, Arthur Street, Yau-mat.

All the defendants pleaded guilty, and the second and third accused were found to have had previous convictions.

His Worship then imposed a fine of $75 or six weeks hard labour on the first defendant, and $250 or three months' and $100 or two months' on the second and third respectively.

BANKRUPTCY COURT

Adjudication Orders Made
 At the Bankruptcy Court on Saturday, adjudication orders were made by the Chief Justice, His Honour Mr. A.D.A. MacGregor on the applications of the Hung Cheong Loong Firm and the Wo Hop firm.

Receiving orders were made on the petitions of the Hung Cheong Pawn Brokers firm, Chau Yue Tin and the Yau Kee Cheong firm.

In the case of the petition by Chau Yue Tin, the receiving order was made on the condition that the sum of $1,400, representing 15 per cent. of the liabilities was paid to the Official Receiver, Mr. J. J. Hayden, within three days.

MORE CONVENIENT NAME

On a charge of having given false information as to his name when registering, Alec Victor Strifley, a motor salesman was fined $25 by Mr. Hamilton at Central Magistracy yesterday.

Defendant had signed his name as Alec Victor Striker at the Repulse Bay Hotel.

Sub-Inspector Nolloth said the object of bringing the case was that there was considerable difficulty in tracing people under a wrong name.

Defendant admitted the charge, saying that "Striker" was a more convenient name, and he had been using it for a long time. It was a sort of nickname.

Sub-Inspector Nolloth said he was not pressing the case.

THEFT OF SEWING MACHINES

For the theft of ten, six and four sewing machines, respectively, on December 8, 9, and 10, 1933 from the Singer Sewing Machine Co., in Dundas Street, Au Yeung Kee, a shop coolie, Ng Sze Kau, unemployed, and Ng Ng Kau, unemployed, were each sentenced to four months' hard labour by Mr. Lee at Kowloon Magistracy yesterday.

All three men were arrested on information received.

GAMBLING HOUSE RAIDED

Chinese Woman Charged
 Before Mr. Lee at the Kowloon Police Court last Saturday morning, a Chinese woman named Tsang Ying aged 58 years, was charged with unlawfully running a gambling house, and illegal possession of 50 plus lottery tickets.

It was stated by Wal Lul Luk, a Chinese detective, that the defendant was the principal tenant of No. 195 Portland Street, ground floor and the tickets were found hidden in her room.

The defendant pleaded guilty and a fine of $75 or in default six weeks' hard labour was imposed.

OPIMUM AND HEROIN PILLS

The defendant pleaded guilty and a fine of $875 or thirteen weeks on the first charge and two months' imprisonment on the second was imposed.

The prepared opium and the heroin pills were ordered to be confiscated.

HEALTH CAMPAIGN INAUGURATED

Addresses at Chinese Y.M.C.A.

The one week's Health Campaign which is being sponsored by the Chinese Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Association, the Chinese Medical Association and the Y's Men's Club, was inaugurated on Saturday night in the Hong Kong Chinese Y.M.C.A. Hall, where an appreciative audience were addressed by the Hon. Dr. Wellington, Director of Medical and Sanitary Services, and the Hon. Dr. Ts'o Seen-wan.

Dr. Ts'o addressed the gathering at length over the necessity of keeping a good, clean, healthy life and commented upon the good work of Medical bodies in the Colony who were striving hard to eliminate disease and other sickness by administering to the afflicted.

He referred to the great work done by the Chinese outdoor dispensaries and the St. John Ambulance Brigade.

Dr. Wellington, in the course of his speech said, "It is the aim of every man to live a healthy life for a reasonable span of years. In the country he may succeed without assistance, but in a populous city he had little chance unless the Public Health organisation of that city is sound. Where this is the case, he has a good chance of reaching his three score years and ten" as he had on the "farm," concluded Dr. Wellington.

The Campaign will continue throughout this week when the idea, the meaning and the practices of good health will be emphasized through the mediums of lectures, health displays, health literature and physical examinations.

Efforts will also be made to reach the people on the outskirts of Kowloon and the New Territory.

CABLE NEWS IN BRIEF

RAIN MADE TO ORDER

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)
 Moscow, July 7.
 The Soviet "Rainmakers Institute" set up last year in the drought-ridden cotton fields of Uzbekistan, reported its first practical results of artificial shower, production on Saturday. Professor Gurdun, the director of the Institute, claims to have manufactured a 49 mins. precipitation over an area of one and a half square kilometres. The downpour-on-demand is attained by the chemical production and the distribution of a special type of gas which in turn favours a formation particularly of humid air. The resulting miniature rain clouds are forced to deposit a waterload by "splitting" by means of a high power electric discharge.

The report concludes that despite the effectiveness the methods are not adapted to practical large scale application due to the enormous expenses involved.—Transocean Kuo Min.

AFGHAN SENTENCED TO DEATH

Berlin, July 7.
 The 37-year-old Afghan civil engineer, Syed Kamal who in June last year, killed the Afghan Minister to Berlin, Sirdar Mohammed Aziz—brother of the late Afghan King, Nadir Shah, who himself was murdered last November—has been sentenced to death here by the Court Assizes after a two days' trial.

The reason why the legal proceedings took place only now was due to prolonged negotiations for the extradition of the assassin to Afghanistan, the extradition having been granted by the Reich Government in August last year. For technical reasons, the Afghan Government, however, finally decided not to avail itself of the extradition so that the murderer was brought to trial here.

Although the accused maintained that he had shot the Minister for personal reasons in order to avenge an insult the Court took the view that he committed the deed from political motives.

The defence counsel announced he would lodge an appeal on the grounds that the German court had no jurisdiction in the case.—Transocean Kuo Min.

SAILORS RIOT ASHORE

Nice, July 7.
 The sailors of the American warships, Wyoming and Arkansas, made an unsuccessful attempt to turn the city upside down in the dim small hours on Saturday morning.

The disorders started when a small but determined band of sailors wrecked all the furniture, mirrors, tables and windows in the crowded Cafe de Paris. The wrecking crew then began a systematic round-trip in the "bright-section, breaking every light still burning. The rioters were finally subdued by the citizens and the police and sent back to the ships. One sailor had his skull fractured and one had his larynx punctured by police pistol shots and scores are suffering from minor injuries.—Transocean Kuo Min.

HORSE THIEVES TO DIE

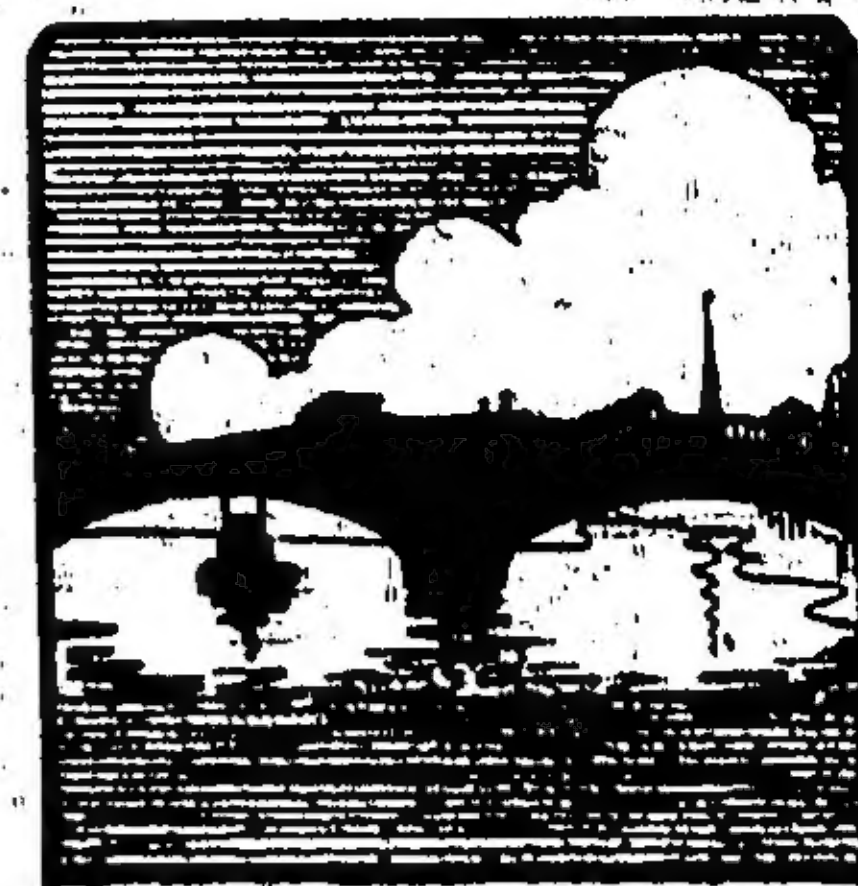

Moscow, July 7.
 Summary justice was meted out to three horse thieves who have been sentenced to death by the Moscow district court on a charge of having, as leaders of a band, done a roaring business as horse-traders by the simple expedient of abducting horses from one peasant and selling them at cut-throat prices to another. The band who operated in the environs of Moscow had in many cases sold a horse to some farmer only to steal and carry it off again the next night.—Transocean Kuo Min.

CROWN JEWELS

Berlin, July 6.
 The Crown jewels of Charlemagne's holy Roman Empire which for centuries were kept under lock and key in the Cathedral of Aachen will be displayed in the historic Nuremberg townhall during the National-Socialist Party convention there in September. The rare collection includes the Imperial orb, the sceptre, the sceptre, the ceremonial sword, the sword of Charlemagne, the Holy lance sword of Maurinus and the purse of St. Stephen.—Transocean Kuo Min.

MYSTERIOUS EPIDEMIC AT OLD TRAFFORD

London, July 7.
 A mysterious epidemic has stricken half the Australian cricketers who are now engaged in the Third Test at Old Trafford.

Following the retirement from the field yesterday of Don Bradman and A. Chipperfield, W. M. Woodfull, the skipper of the side, W. H. Ponsford, W. A. Brown, and Alan Kippax were all reported to be unwell last night.

They are all suffering from sore throats and a mysterious sickness. It is now almost certain that the Australians will have to field at least three substitutes to-day.

Bradman and Chipperfield are no better, and if they recover in time to play, they will probably be kept back as late as possible in the batting order.—Reuter.

London, Later.
 It is understood that Woodfull, Ponsford and Brown are suffering from the complaint in a very minor form, and it is hoped that they will be quite fit to play to-day.—Reuter.

WEDDINGS

Miss Ailie McGregor &
Dr. W. Gillies Annan

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 22.

On June 16th the wedding took place at St. George's Church, Bickley, Kent of Ailie, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. McGregor, late of Hongkong, to Dr. W. Gillies Annan of Darlington.

The bride, who, owing to the ill-health of her father, was given away by Mr. H. W. Dean, was charmingly attired in white lace, with a train of tulle and lace, wore a diamond halo with tulle veil and carried a bouquet of white carnations and lilies of the valley.

The three bridesmaids—Nancy and Heather McGregor (sisters of the bride) and Isobel Annan (cousin of the bridegroom) wore pale blue organdie dresses with picture hats of the same shade, and carried bouquets of sweet peas. Mr. Donald Annan (brother of the bridegroom) was best man. The bride's mother wore a beige lace dress with delphinium blue hat and carried tea roses. The honeymoon is being spent at Pitlochry, Scotland.

MISS MARY STABB AND

MR. RAY

The marriage took place on June 20, at St. Paul's, Knightsbridge, of Mr. Charles Dick Edgumbe Ray, only son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. P. Ray, of Point House, Working, Surrey, formerly of Hongkong, and Miss Mary Margaret Stabb, eldest daughter of the late Sir Newton Stabb, of the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation, and of Lady Stabb, of Farnham Hall, Saxmundham, Suffolk. The Rev. E. K. C. Hamilton officiated.

The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. William Stabb, wore a gown of ivory satin with a train, cut in one with the skirt, trimmed with an inset panel of lace. Her ivory tulle veil was held in place by a wreath of orange-blossoms. She carried a bouquet of gardenias. She was attended by four children—Violet Stabb (her sister), Stella Phillips, Elizabeth Wilson, and John Wilson—and by one grown-up bridesmaid—Miss Susan Stabb (her sister). The maids wore dresses of peach-pink organza with taffeta sashes, and headresses of flowers to tone. They carried bouquets of mixed flowers. The page wore a suit of peach-pink linen. Mr. Douglas Phillips was best man.

The Ladies Carlton Club, 5, Grosvenor Place, S.W.1, at which Lady Stabb held a reception was charmingly decorated with roses and flame coloured gladioli. Immediately afterwards the bride and bridegroom left to spend their honeymoon in Cornwall. The bride travelled in an almond-green macramé dress, trimmed with white flowers and a coat and hat to match.

The toast of the bride and bridegroom was very ably proposed by Mr. L. N. Leefe, and was responded to by Mr. Edgumbe Ray on behalf of his wife and himself.

An amusing incident was that as the bride and bridegroom were ready to leave twenty minutes before their car was ordered, they drove away in a taxi amidst showers of rose-leaves.

It might be of interest to know that Mr. C. D. Edgumbe Ray, the bridegroom, is an Underwriting member of Lloyds and a partner in the firm of Savill Gough Hay & Company of London.

Mrs. Elizabeth
Mackay

We regret to record the death, at the Kowloon Hospital yesterday, of Mrs. Elizabeth Mackay, mother of Mr. Norman Mackay, the well-known local sportsman.

"BUCKET" SHOP
BUSINESSDraft Of New Ordinance Announced

The draft of an Ordinance to regulate and control exchanges, the purpose of which is to make illegal such concerns as are generally known as "bucket shops," is a feature of the local market, in 1921, and the Gold Bar Exchanges which have been operated recently in the Colony, is contained in the current issue of the Government Gazette.

The ordinance forbids gambling in "futures" in respect of metals, currencies and commodities generally. It does not prohibit the buying or selling forward of stocks and shares.

No Advertising

It also prohibits the opening and keeping of any place, and the advertising, etc. of facilities, for the purposes of such gambling in "futures."

Aiders and abettors are placed on the same footing as principal offenders.

The consent of the Attorney General is made a condition precedent to the institution of proceedings.

The onus of disproving intent to make profit and absence of bona fide intention to make or receive delivery is thrown on the defendant in criminal proceedings under this Ordinance.

The Governor by Order in Council is empowered to exempt from the operation of the Ordinance such persons and business concerns as he deems fit.

TYPHOONS

Typhoons are one of those ever recurring manifestations of nature over which man has no control. They are one of the signs that man is not yet master of the universe. On the other hand the highly developed system of predicting their advent, thus enabling precautions to be taken shows that science is as busy saving life as it is planning its destruction. A navigator versed in sea lore can, by means of the barometer and direction of the wind keep himself tolerably well informed. The laws of circular storms were known before the days of wireless telegraphy. Experience counted and this experience was sometimes condensed into rhyme for the benefit of those who would not otherwise remember what they were taught. There is one such about typhoons in the China seas:—

June, too soon,
July, stand by,
August, look out you must,
September, remember
October, all over.

This formed a very practical working rule, and by it we may see that we have now approached the troublesome season. In the first typhoon that is well recorded, that of September 22-23, 1974, the inhabitants of Hong Kong had no means of knowing the approach of the typhoon except by instinct. The China Overland Mail of 15th October of that year writes, "In ordinary typhoons the places of shelter which the Chinese, who have a marvellous instinct in foreseeing the advent of these terrible visitations, seek are sufficient protection to protect the large bulk of the junks and sampans." In this case the typhoon destroyed them in the shelters, and no less than 35 barques disappeared or were stranded ashore. What does the instinct for expecting a typhoon amount to? Without waiting as some ancient mariners might do, for old wounds to ache, yet it is distinctly noticeable that some days before a typhoon the sunshine seems much more brilliant than usual. "It is true that there are secondary signs such as flies and birds. But in spite of the most expert fore ships and sailors were caught by these storms.

When the next violent typhoon, that of September 19, 1906 occurred there was an observatory in Hong Kong. This observatory hoisted the black drum at 8 a.m. a few minutes before the typhoon, and after the event a master mariner A. W. Outerbridge wrote to the press, "The notice we had of the approach of the typhoon of this morning is typical of the kind of service we get from the Observatory here, and as a China coaster of twenty-five years service etc." This was a bit unfair, because with such a lengthy stay in these waters the mariner should have been as good at predicting the typhoon as the astronomer. If not better. The advance in the prediction of typhoons is entirely due to the invention of wireless. It took a number of years before the system was organised through the enterprise of the Jesuit missionaries of Zicawei. All credit is not due to them, for much help in past years has been given by the Royal Navy in co-ordinating the information obtained from ships at sea and in transmitting their own observations to the necessary authorities. It is possible now to trace the advent of a typhoon hour by hour. There are exceptions, as in 1927 the typhoon formed close to Hong Kong and even the Observatory did not give much notice. Science is not, however, infallible, and from time to time surprises must be expected. It is curious to note that the two big typhoons recorded occurred towards the very end of the typhoon season and near the equinoxes. The typhoon season is supposed to finish about September 10, and both these sprang up later. While on the one hand thanking science for the advances made, not only in wireless, but also in the art of building, since less wood is used and it is improbable that as in former times, "timber will fly like feathers," yet mankind should not place unlimited confidence in his own works. It is a happy sign to see science working for life saving, but "Acts of God" should not be overlooked.

ROBBERY AT
BAY VIEWSad Turn to Tea
Party

A daring armed robbery occurred on Saturday afternoon at No. 79 Cheun Yung Street, Bay View when a married Chinese couple, an old Chinese woman and four children were robbed of watches, pendants and jewellery, the total value of which was $128.30.

At about 2.30 p.m. Shum Cheung Fung opened the door in answer to a knock. Four men walked in two of whom were known to him and who were formerly police officers employed in a local firm.

Complainant and his wife prepared tea for the visitors and they chatted for about fifteen minutes when one of the men suddenly produced an automatic pistol and held the complainant up at the same time exclaiming, "I am very sorry." Meanwhile another of the robbers produced a second revolver and threatened complainant's wife. Seeing that it was useless to offer any resistance, Shum Cheung Fung ordered his wife to open all her boxes and the robbers then made their haul and prepared to escape.

Just before departing the robbers threatened complainant with death if he reported the matter to the Police within three days and it was not until yesterday morning that Shum Cheung Fung plucked up enough courage to leave his quarters and make his report at the Bay View Police Station.

LOOKING FOR FREE RIDESLesson Taught
by Police

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Canton, July 8.
The bus companies have sent identical petitions to several military organs asking that half tickets for soldiers, sailors and policemen be abolished on the ground that the buses carry too many half-ticket passengers and that non-service men also insist on paying only half fare.

Officials who work in government offices and Kuomintang organs also pay half fare, according to the petition, and people in uniform also pay for half tickets even though they do not belong to the services. Those who are entitled to this privilege ride "the bus" with their relatives and friends and pay also half fares for them.

The petition stressed that when the conductor demanded a full fare, he was often assaulted by the impostor. As a result, conductors would not care to dispute on this matter, and therefore the companies are losing money.

It is pointed out in the petition that the buses in Canton carry about 80,000 passengers a day, of which 20,000 pay only half fare. This big number is due to the fact that many claim this privilege by force and threat or pretend that they are service men. In any event, the buses are transporting half-fare passengers at a loss, and the companies pray for a cancellation of this system.

There are still passengers who refuse to pay at all. Sometimes the person is so influential that he is welcomed to take a free ride. As a punishment to free riders, the police once arrested them and took them by patrol wagons far away from the city and let them enjoy the walk home. Such unwelcome passengers are decreasing but not wholly eliminated.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

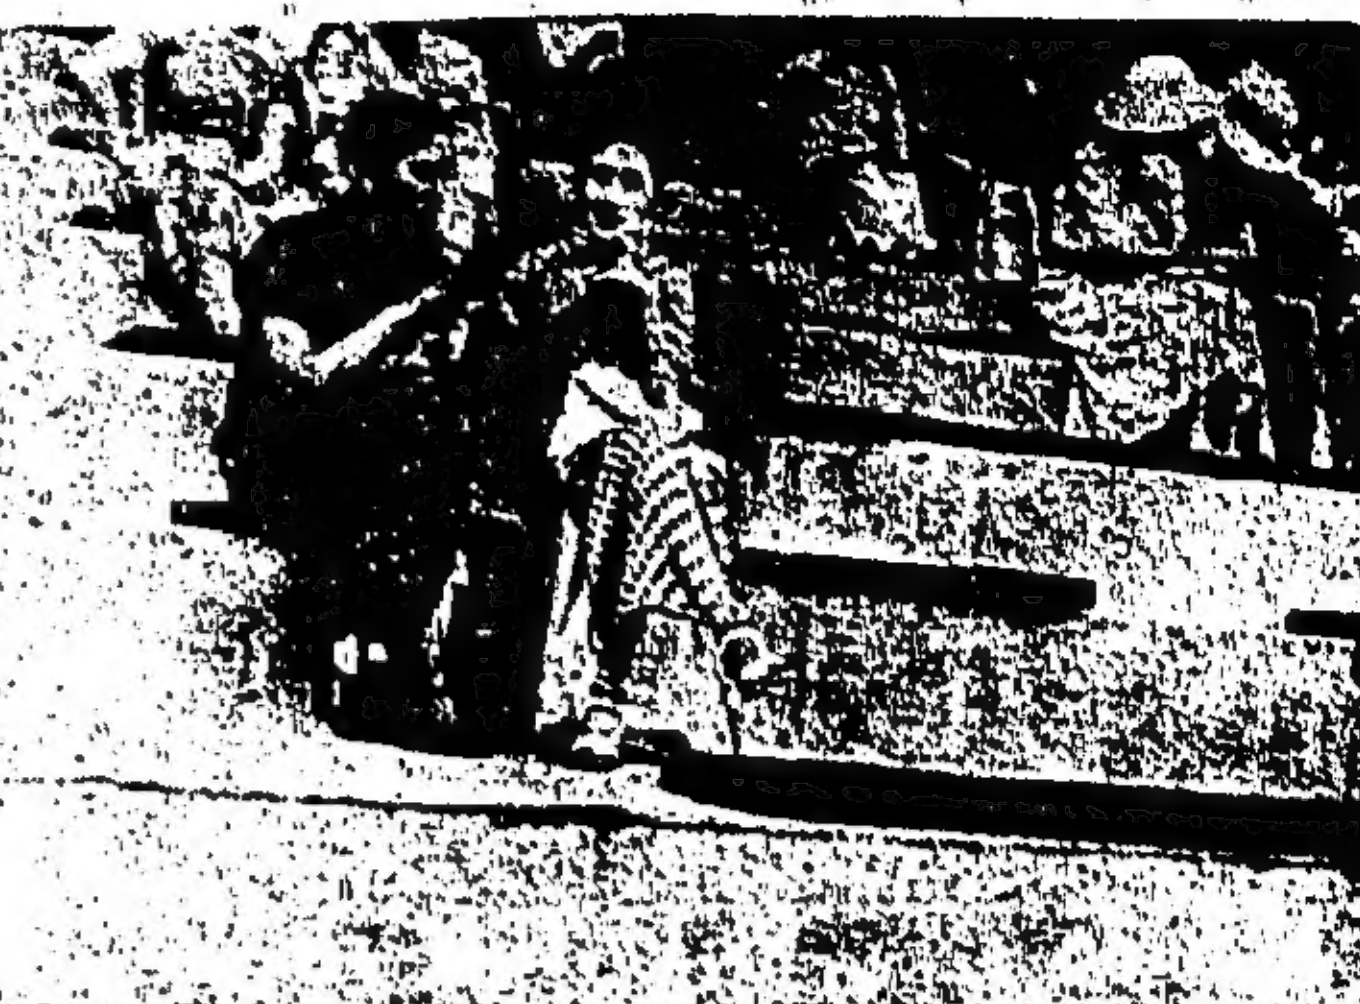

Only one case of cerebro-spinal fever was reported for the 24 hours ended on July 6.

Lady Southern had kindly consented to be present at the annual prize-giving at the Kowloon Junior School on Thursday, July 19 at 4.15 p.m.

A preliminary rehearsal for the forthcoming production of "Merrie England" will be held by the Hong Kong Philharmonic Society at the Cathedral Hall to-day commencing at 5.30 p.m.

If Gossip We Must

By PRUDENCE

The modern Chinese lady is at home anywhere. Here are two at the races.

daintily in lavender organdie. I loved the tilted hat worn by Mrs. Gee and the belt of twisted red and black which Mrs. Nicolson wore with her white dress.

Mr. Gourley had everyone in peals of laughter by his very clever and witty speech, (which was full of amusing local "hits") afterwards we all lifted brimming glasses of champagne to drink to the health of His Majesty the King (proposed by Mr. Gourley) and the second toast of happiness and prosperity to the United States of America proposed by H. E. Major General O. C. Barrett.

A great many guests were present at this reception. Sir Thomas and Lady Southern, were early arrivals, and Lady Southern looked delightful in a very pretty dress of white ribbed-muslin with a gipsy scarf of acacia-red threaded through embroidered slits, and a red hat to match. Mrs. Elliott, too, looked charming, in tobacco brown crepe-de-chine, with just a touch of leaf green in her brown hat.

SOME OF THE GUESTS

Mrs. North looked very striking all in white. Mrs. Owen Hughes wore charmingly blended browns, and her daughter Alwen looked awfully pretty in coral "Sportex". Mrs. Rowell too had a most delicious dress of palest shell-pink Sportex, worn with a very dark blue hat and long blue earrings.

Mrs. G. D. R. Black looked cool and trim in dark blue and white diagonal stripes. Mrs. Morgan had a captivating bow-tie of red with her dress of, flowered pique, and Mrs. Costello looked distinguished in black and white patterned silk. Mrs. Grimble too looked very nice in black and white with a wide black hat.

Mrs. Raymond set a fashion with one of those charming white picture hats with a coloured crown. Mrs. Odell looked cool and fresh in checked green organdie, and Mrs. Hole was very slim and elegant in brown and white checked organdie, while the backless dress of light blue worn by Mrs. Brown was universally admired.

A RADIO CONCERT

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals is making a wide appeal to the public just now. There is much to be done in this growing Colony of ours, and the Society proposes to make their needs known by means of a delightful programme of music which is to be broadcasted from Z.B.W. on the evening of July 10th.

A short explanation of the Society's aims will be given by Mr. D. Davies, followed by a concert in which many well-known artists have promised to take part.

Miss Elsa Alves has promised some operatic arias, Miss Margaret King and Miss Audrey Steele will be heard in popular numbers. Mrs. Womack will sing some English Ballads, Mr. Jack Grenham will give humorous items and Mr. Gus D' Aquino some of his charming songs. The accompaniments are sure to be perfect in the hands of Mr. F. Mason, Miss Doreen Ma, and Miss Gomes, and Mr. Butler will play a flute accompaniment to one of the songs.

Radio-Fans should make a note of this Studio Concert on Tuesday evening July 10th.

THE HOTEL LOUNGE

There is no gainsaying that the Hongkong Hotel is one of the most popular rendezvous for young and old alike. No matter what hour of the day, there is always a crowd in the lounge, but "morning coffee" hours is invariably the busiest time for the Hotel staff. Saturday morning find the place crowded out and amongst the people I noticed there last Saturday were Mrs. Beatrice Thompson of the Advertising and Publicity Bureau who was having tea with some friends. She looked very smart in a large black hat and wore a dress of navy hat and was extremely becoming. Mrs. D. Grant was there, as usual looking very nice in a green dress with a big white hat.

It was nice to see Miss Daisy O'Keefe looking so well after a month in hospital. She was also dressed in green and was chatting with Mrs. Pestonji, wife of the popular Ice House Street broker Dr. Nicolson's charming wife was there too, chatting with her mother who has just returned to the Colony while Mrs. Plovanelli, well-dressed and chic as always, was in a corner with Mrs. Suckling and a friend.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker were there, enjoying a cool drink. Mr. Walker is the new manager of the Kowloon-Canton-Railway while another new business man to the Colony, "Sig. Sopran", of Lloyd Triestino was also present.

I looked in vain for the "Three Musketeers." Business must have kept them from making their usual Saturday morning pilgrimage—but not just as I was about to leave, I saw one of them walking down the stairs all by himself and looking very disconsolate.

JAPANESE CABINET DEADLOCK

Seiyukai Party Leader Still Dissatisfied

Tokyo, July 7. The formation of the Japanese Cabinet is deadlocked owing to the refusal of the Seiyukai Party leader, Mr. Suzuki, to accept the portfolios of Minister of Communications and Minister of Agriculture offered to Mr. T. Tokanami, and Mr. K. Mochizuki, respectively, by the Premier, Admiral Okada, on the grounds that the posts are unimportant.

Between 50 and 80 Seiyukai Party members, however, are threatening to secede and give support to Admiral Okada on condition that the three leading seceders are given portfolios.

Okada has been kept very busy from 5.30 o'clock this morning interviewing the ex-Premier, Viscount Saito, Mr. Suzuki, Baron Wakatsuki, leader of the Minseitō Party, and other politicians.

Latest reports indicate that Mr. Suzuki will climb down and that five portfolios will be allotted to the Seiyukai and Minseitō Parties.—Reuter.

ADDITIONS TO CABINET

Tokyo July 7. Additional members of the Japanese Cabinet announced to-day, are:

Minister for Home Affairs, Mr. Fumio Goto.
Minister for Education, Mr. Genji Matsuda (Minseitō Party).
Minister of Commerce, Mr. Chuji Machida (Minseitō Party).
Minister of Agriculture, Mr. Tatsunosuke Yamasaki (Seiyukai Party).

Minister of Railways, Mr. Shinya Uchida (Seiyukai Party). While the Cabinet is termed "National" it actually is strongly bureaucratic. The Premier has refused to allow a partizan to hold the Home Affairs portfolio, as he foresees a general election at the end of the year, and the Home Affairs Minister can vitally affect the elections through Prefectural Governors.

The Premier also holds the Overseas Affairs portfolio.

The Minister of the Communications post has been accepted by Mr. Takejiro Tokonami, the insurgent member of the Seiyukai Party.

The installation ceremony will take place at the Palace to-morrow morning.—Reuter.

ARMY DOMINATION FEARED

Dairen, July 7. The three Eastern Provinces are breathlessly watching developments in connection with the rumour that the new Japanese Premier, Admiral Okada, intends to abolish the Colonial Ministry.

The Kwantung Government, the South Manchurian Railway officials, and business-men are excited, for abolition would prepare for army domination over them.—Reuter.

SINGAPORE AIR DISASTER

Death Enquiry Held

Singapore, July 2. A verdict of "Death by misadventure" was returned on Saturday at an inquest on two airmen, Pilot Officer M. J. O. Parish and Leading Aircraftman Gineilo both aged 22, who crashed with a bombing plane off Ponggol Point on June 6. Squadron-leader Croke, in evidence said he believed that there was a structural fault in the machine.

Diving from a height of 5,000 feet at a speed of nearly 200 m.p.h., the Wildebeest bombing machine which they were flying, came apart, turned over on its back and crashed into the sea 400 to 500 yards off the shore.

Parish made frantic efforts to extricate himself from the helpless craft and did succeed in getting off his straps but the pressure from the air beneath kept him strapped.

The Coroner (Mr. W. G. Porter) returned a verdict of "Death by Misadventure" on both men.

Pilot Officer Parish was the son of Captain A. J. Parish of Freshwater, Isle of Wight. Gineilo came from Newport, Monmouthshire. Both men were unmarried.

JAMAICA'S BAN ON JAPAN

Good's Diverted to Panama

Panama, July 8. The docks at Cristobal are cluttered with Japanese merchandise which has been refused admittance to Jamaica and British West Indies owing to the British embargo.

Over 5,000 tons, mainly textiles with 10,000 pairs of shoes at present are held up. They were shipped here from Jamaica owing to the embargo.

Panama is already flooded with Japanese products. Double the amount of consular duties have been paid upon these rejects from Jamaica.—Reuter.

MR. LATHAM'S MISSION

Report Issued

London, July 7. A Canberra telegram says that the report of the Hon. Mr. J. G. Latham on his mission to the Far East, tabled in the House of Representatives, does not favour the establishment of diplomatic relations direct with Japan as it is felt that the British Foreign Office looks after Australia's interest quite satisfactorily.

The report recommends the appointment of trade representatives in Batavia, Shanghai and Tokyo, and possibly Hong Kong.

It says that Australia's future is bound up with the East and it was very improbable that Australia would do anything that might lead to war in the East. If war occurred, it was bound to affect Australia whether she engaged in it or not.

Australia's economic destiny is largely determined by her volume of trade with the East.—Reuter.

SHUNTIAN PIRATES IN FLIGHT

Captives And Junks Abandoned

Nanking, July 7. Twenty Chinese captives, most likely those who were taken from the Shuntien when the ship was pirated at the mouth of the Yellow River on June 17, have regained their liberty as the result of a raid by Chinese Marines against the pirate lair at Ching-shukou, on the coast of Shantung, on Thursday.

The pirates were much harassed previously by air bombings and fled without a fight, leaving the prisoners and six junks behind.—Reuter.

THE WIGHTMAN CUP

Great Britain Fail In The Singles

(Special Air Mail Service)

London June 22. Once more America has conquered in the Wightman Cup match and, at that, without the help of Mrs. F. S. Moody and Miss A. Marble. Great Britain's defeat, which was completed at Wimbledon was a bitter disappointment, but deserved on merit. True, the sultry heat reduced Miss D. E. Round to the verge of collapse, but Miss H. Jacobs, her conqueror, had the same risks to face and overcame them.

When the second day's began the general atmosphere was one of resignation, so far as the first match was concerned. The prospects, viewed optimistically, were roughly as follows: A win to Miss Jacobs against Miss Round (3-1 to America); a win to Miss Scriven against Miss Palfrey (3-2); a win Miss Nuthall against Miss Cruikshank (3 all), and then everything depending on the doubles with Mrs. Godfree's strategy a possible determining factor in favour of Great Britain.

To bring about such a situation, however, anxious crises had to be passed; namely, Miss Scriven's match against the greatly improved Miss Palfrey, and the test of Miss Nuthall's stamina, since the draw, compelled her to play her doubles very shortly after her singles.

The first assumption turned out to be correct, but not before Miss Round had put up a valiant fight. Her volleying was often brilliant, and the chop-strokes often became a two-edged weapon to Miss Jacobs, so often did they produce a winner to the other side.

Miss Scriven v. Miss Palfrey. Miss Scriven raised our hopes for the next match, only to let them crash to the ground in one of the most astonishing finales ever seen to a big lawn tennis match. After taking the first set at 6-4, and losing the second at 2-6, she played confidently and well to lead by 5-1 and advantage on Miss Palfrey's service.

Match-point, "however," evoked from Miss Palfrey three aged services to win game. Even so, Miss Scriven was well placed; but she then proceeded to lose the next four games, in which she scored only three points.

Apart from Miss Palfrey's brave and brilliant saving of the match, there was little brilliance in this match. Miss Palfrey's beautifully produced first service often had Miss Scriven in difficulties, and she drove judiciously to the left-hander's forehead to encourage errors at the end of long rallies. Miss Scriven's chief merit was her subtle use of varying length with her otherwise defensive backhand.

With the result of the tie now beyond all doubt, the other matches were divested of all save academic interest and the hope that the severity of defeat might be lessened.

Miss Nuthall moved quickly to 5-2 in the first set, but then dropped three games even, more quickly, and eventually Miss Babcock won the set at 7-5. In the next set Miss Nuthall was much more convincing. Timing and aim both improved and made her driving well worth the 6-3 set she secured. She went on to give Great Britain some compensation by taking the next set at 6-4, and with it the match.

Crisp volleying gave the British pair the opening set in the doubles, but America improved and squared the match in the next. Once on terms, Miss Jacobs and Miss Palfrey went ahead steadily for a decisive final set, and retained the Cup by 5 matches to 2.

KENT TITLES

Austin Too Good For Yamagishi

In spite of the counter-attraction of the Wightman Cup match, the Beckenham ground was as full as ever the magnet being the double international final in the two singles, Mrs. M. R. King opposing Miss Hartigan, the Australian champion, in the women's event, and H. W. Austin—seldom, indeed, seen at an English tournament outside Wimbledon—meeting J. Yamagishi, of Japan, in the men's. This latter final, by the way, might well not have been an international affair, for the Japanese had been within a single ace of defeat by N. Sharpe on the previous day, but had saved the fatal ace by one of the marvellous low volleys for which he has already, in so short a sojourn in this country, made himself famous, and had gone on to win a fine and well-fought fight.

Mrs. King, with a hot and heavy afternoon in front of her, opened the day's play against the champion of Australia. Miss Hartigan has a very strong first service, with which she scored several aces outright, and her placing to the "side lines" was admirably judged; but she was inclined to overhit, and Mrs. King encouraged her to do so by playing shots two yards short of a length. The personification of steadiness, Mrs. King kept Miss Hartigan well on the run, and was herself death-on anything short. The second set went much the same way as the first, except that Miss Hartigan got one more game in it. She fought well to the end, but Mrs. King was much too strong and too steady for her.

Austin's match against the Japanese, Yamagishi, was eagerly anticipated, for it was thought that Yamagishi might put up a good fight. For half the first set expectations were realised, but, after that, Austin had matters all his own way and went comfortably out at 6-3. In the second set he played such perfect tennis that not even Yamagishi's fiercest drives or cleverest lobs were of any avail whatever. Shot after winning shot streamed from Austin's racket without apparent effort, and—cut a short story, even shorter—he won the set with the loss of six aces only in the six games.

When the men came out for the fourth set, it was soon apparent that Boussus was no longer in the hunt, and McGrath won 6-2, and went to 5-0 in the final set. Boussus showed a slight return to form by winning two games, and McGrath had match point four times before he could pull it off.

Andre Meril (France) pulled off the biggest upset of the year to beat J. Crawford (Australia), and at the end of the first day the slides all square. The young Frenchman, who usually is brilliant but unsteady, won on steadiness, and on nothing else. Rarely did he try to win the point by a brilliant stroke, but, returning the ball by any and all means, he waited patiently for the error which came sooner or later.

Crawford played much below his usual form. He gave a distinct impression of being stale. The young Frenchman at times played as if inspired, and some of his returns were marvellous.

KOWLOON-CANTON RAILWAY

Agreement Revision Meeting

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Canton, July 8. (Negotiations for the revision of the Canton-Kowloon Railway agreement are slated for July 11. It is understood that the conference will be held in Hong Kong in accordance with the wishes of the British section.

The Ministry of Railways in Nanking has sent down three representatives in connection with the parley, since the Kowloon section recognizes that the legal owner of the railway is the National Government. The three Nanking officials will be assisted in the negotiations by the managing director and traffic manager of the Chinese section.

There is an apprehension among the authorities here that in the course of the negotiations, which concern mostly the apportionment of profits, a proposal may be made by the Hong Kong delegates for the linking of the Canton-Kowloon Railway with the Canton-Hankow Railway.

To make known the local official views, several circular telegrams were issued by semi-official bodies opposing the connection of these two railways. This suggestion came only from the chairman of the Chinese Chamber of Commerce at Hong Kong, and it does not appear to have the official support of the British colonial authorities.

MINISTRY STATEMENT

Nanking, July 7. Interviewed by Reuter to-day, a spokesman of the Ministry of Railways said that the rumours in circulation regarding the question of linking up Hong Kong and Canton, with Hankow, by constructing a loop line between the Canton-Kowloon line and the Canton-Hankow line, and the revision of the Canton-Kowloon line through traffic agreement, was without foundation.

The question of connecting the Canton-Kowloon line with the Canton-Hankow line has not been, and will not be, raised at the negotiations regarding the revision of the Canton-Kowloon through traffic agreement.—Reuter.

NEW YORK STOCK AND COMMODITY QUOTATIONS

AMERICAN ORIENTAL FINANCE CORPORATION AND S. E. LEVY & CO.

July 6th (Friday)

The American Oriental Finance Corporation report through their New York agents, Messrs. E. A. Pierce & Co., states:

Stocks: The movement of the list is encouraging but the continued lack of volume testifies to the absence of outside confidence in the street one hears stories of quite investment absorption. Business done: 480,000 shares.

Wheat: Early in the day the market was easier on cables reporting rains. There was a moderate amount of hedging which was absorbed and later in the day, prices were firmer in sympathy with the Winnipeg market which was supported. Wednesday's sales: 11,136,000 bushels.

Cotton: Liquidation was a little more general today, induced mainly by some showers in Texas and Oklahoma. Selling found a more limited off-take than recently, due to the falling off of speculative and Trade demand. Price occurred at the lower levels.

Silver: Silver futures opened easy following the lower trend of the London market and they continued to decline on Wheat. A few orders came into the market but a waiting policy was being followed.

Car-loadings for the week ended June 30th amounted to 644,572, an increase of 22,700 over the previous week.

LARWOOD REFUSES TO PLAY AT LORD'S

"Political Influence": Denials By Lord Hailsham And Mr. Thomas

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 30. Harold Larwood, the Nottinghamshire cricketer, whose fast bowling contributed so largely to winning the Ashes in Australia, will not play at Lord's on Friday.

He has definitely decided, he announced yesterday, never to play against Australia in a Test again. He complained of "political influence" to keep him out of the Tests.

Sir Stanley Jackson, chairman of the England Selection Committee, in a statement, deplored that Larwood should put his signature to such a statement. "I do not think it will do anybody any good," Sir Stanley remarked. "Until I meet my colleagues I can say nothing further. There has been no meeting of the Selection Committee today, but we are meeting tomorrow. After all, we have to select a team, not one man."

As far as I know, Larwood has not conveyed his decision to the Selection Committee.

Lord Hailsham's Comment. Larwood, in his announcement, asserted that he was fit to play in the first Test, though he and his county captain, A. W. Carr, both stated at the time that he was not fit. He added that political influence had been brought to bear on the M.C.C. to keep him out of the Tests.

This was emphatically denied by Lord Hailsham, Secretary for War, the last president of the M.C.C., and by Mr. J. H. Thomas, Secretary for the Dominions.

It is the most extraordinary moonshine I have ever heard of, said Lord Hailsham. "The only person who prevented Larwood from playing in the first Test match was Larwood himself. I am a member of the M.C.C. Committee and must have known had any influence, political or otherwise, been at work."

I really cannot understand what Larwood means. Whose is the political influence supposed to be, and what is it supposed to do? When the first Test match team was chosen he said he was not fit, and that is the reason he was not chosen so I always understood.

I think it is a very great pity, when the Australians are over here, having a very pleasant time, and when there is no sort of unpleasantness or difficulty at all, that this sort of agitation should be worked up that can only do harm and spoil the tour. Good manners would have prevented this attack on the Australians, who, after all, are our guests.

Denial By Mr. Thomas. Mr. Thomas declared that there was not a vestige of truth in Larwood's statement. "Neither directly nor indirectly have any discussions taken place with politicians with regard to Larwood either in Australia or here. It is rather unfortunate that Larwood, in his grievance against somebody, should have dragged in politicians."

Sir Francis Lacey, who was secretary to the M.C.C. for nearly thirty years, also ridiculed the idea that political influence had been brought to bear.

"That is all humbug," he said. "As far as I know the M.C.C. have never changed their attitude in the least. Their attitude has always been to keep the spirit of the game as pure as possible."

Incident Is Closed. Mr. Harold Bushby, manager of the Australian team, refused to comment on Larwood's decision.

"The position arising out of the tour by England in 1932-3 is closed so far as my Board and the M.C.C. are concerned," he said.

"We have had a very happy tour to date, and I do not intend to be drawn into any controversy in a matter we look upon as closed."

"Only one person appointed by our Board of Control can make any statement to the Press and that is, of course, the manager. I know nothing whatever of any political influence having been used in any way."

The M.C.C. Selection Committee—Sir Stanley Jackson, the former England captain, Mr. Percy Perrin, and Mr. T. A. Higson—met to-day to select the England team.

Larwood is in wonderful form, as he showed by taking six wickets for 51 runs at one stage he had six for 1 against Lancashire on Saturday.

There is not the slightest doubt that the committee would have invited him to play, and Sir Stanley Jackson has stated that no conditions would have been imposed.

But, Sir Stanley added, Larwood would naturally be subject, like every other cricketer, to his captain's orders. Since R.E.S. Wyatt, who will probably lead England, is known to disapprove of fast, leg-theory this may be taken as an indication that "body-line" is barred.

At all events it was so interpreted by Larwood. He declared yesterday that the M.C.C. were adopting a rule to keep him out of the Tests. He added that from the first he had never intended to play against an Australian captain who regarded him as unsportsmanlike and unfair.

AUSTRALIANS AT WINDSOR

Received By King And Queen

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 30. The King and Queen received the Australian cricketers at Windsor Castle yesterday.

It was a pleasantly informal affair. Their Majesties had a long conversation with the players, and were photographed both with and by them, and specially permitted them to take photographs where they liked in the Castle.

In company with Mr. Bushby, their manager, the Australian cricketers, on their arrival at the State entrance were received by Sir Clive Wigram, the King's private secretary, and Sir Derek Keppel, Master of the Household.

After spending some time in the Castle they came on again into the quadrangle and a few moments later the King and Queen walked out and joined them.

The King, wearing a Panama straw hat, with a dark blue lounge suit, and the Queen in a cream silk dress with a blue pattern, walked over to where the players stood, and then one by one the Australians were presented to them.

Their Majesties shook hands with each one of them and talked with them for some time.

Then, with the King and Queen in the centre, and the eighteen members of the Australian side grouped around, a photograph was taken. As soon as the official photographer had finished each of the Australians, left the group in turn and took a snapshot with his own camera.

Grinnett and one or two others used small cinematograph cameras. One or two of the players had left their cameras in the car and just before the King and Queen came out there was a hurried scamp for the cars to secure them.

The snapshots and photographs, in went on for nearly a quarter of an hour. Meanwhile the King had had a long talk with Woodfull, the captain, Ponsford, Clippensfield, and other players.

In a corner of the quadrangle the Earl of Harwood stood watching the scene with his son, Viscount Lucanville.

The King and Queen shook hands again with the players before they re-entered the Castle. Some of the Australians took last "shots" of the King and Queen with their cinematograph cameras as they went into the building.

After the King and Queen had taken farewell, the members of the party were shown over the Castle by Sir Clive Wigram and Sir Derek Keppel. During a tour of the private apartments they were presented to the Princess Royal.

Tea was served in the Grand Hall and the party left the Castle shortly after five o'clock.

HENLEY REGATTA

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press")

London, July 7. The final day of the Henley Regatta found the German oarsmen win two of the main events when the three Berlin athletes carried off both the Diamond Sculls and the Silver Goblets before ten thousand spectators.

In the famous two-men event, the Berlin Wikingclub crew, Braun and Moeller won by a length and a half over the English Royal Chester pair, the Bigland brothers, in eight minutes and nine seconds.

The Diamond Sculls was won by the 1932 victor, Dr. Herbert Buhltz of the Berlin Rowing Club, who had little difficulty in beating the American, Rutherford of Princeton University, the time being 8 minutes and ten seconds which equalled the record.—Transocean Kuo Min.

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Swatow, June 30. The tennis tournament at the Customs Club will continue into the evenings of next week due to inclement weather on two evenings of this week.

It is evident in watching the games that Swatow could produce some very good players. As a social event the tournament is also a success, as each evening of play brings together a large number of the foreign residents.

The concert given by the personnel of H.M.S. Folkestone last Wednesday evening was a huge success, and enjoyed to the limit both by the audience and the artists. The whole programme was so good that it would be difficult to pick out the best number, but mention ought to be made of the artist on the piano accordion, who not only gave some enjoyable music during the programme, but performed yeoman service with his instrument for the dancing afterwards.

At the close of the programme a few well chosen words of thanks were tendered to the Folkestone, and responded to by Commander Rust.

Thursday evening, the "talkie" Little Women was shown in the Customs Club compound. A delightful outdoor setting, beautiful moonlight and a good picture, all combined in giving a large gathering another pleasant evening. We feel sure that the purchase of the equipment by the Club would be a good investment, and would be backed by good attendances at every show. In any event, those responsible for the evening's showing are to be complimented on their initiative, and are assured of the thanks of those who saw the show.

IMPORT PRICES

The reports and prices are published as supplied by Importers. Cotton Piece Goods and Fancy Cotton Goods.

The following reports have been received:—

There is no improvement in the Hong Kong Cotton Piece Goods market, and prices are sagging. Retailers are finding it difficult to make sales on account of unfavourable weather and this situation is reflected in fewer clearances. Trade in Japanese and domestic productions is reported quick.

The latest Cotton prices to hand are those of the 5th inst.—American Mid. "Spot," 8.81d.

SCOUTS SWIMMING GALA

Wolves Win D.B.S. Championships

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Swatow, June 30. The annual swimming sports of the Diocesan Boys School Scouts took place on Saturday afternoon in the European Y.M.C.A. Pool, when the Wolves Patrol proved themselves to be far superior to the other patrols by capturing seven first places out of nine events to record 37 points against their nearest rivals 27.

Dudley and Wirth of the Wolves were prominent throughout, and where one took first place the other was the runner-up.

The Relay as usual, was the best event on the card and the Wolves narrowly averted defeat through their last swimmer who pulled away with a fine effort to win.

It is noteworthy that in the Patrol "Life Saving" event, which really is the most important event, the Wolves were unplaced, the Otters and Foxes taking first and second places, respectively.

Mr. C. B. R. Sargent, Scoutmaster, while Mr. D. I. Luard and Mr. T. S. W. Chan, masters at the School were judges.

Results were as follow:—

Diving For Plates.—1, J. Dudley (Wolves); 2, Tsui Shui Han (Otters).

25 Yards Breast-Stroke.—1, J. Dudley (Wolves); 2, C. Wirth (Wolves).

Diving.—1, C. Wirth (Wolves); 2, J. Dudley (Wolves).

25 Yards Back-Stroke.—1, C. Wirth (Wolves); 2, Cheung Shaun Wa (Stags).

25 Yards Free Style (Junior).—1, Sin Choi Yin (Foxes); 2, F. Jarret (Otters).

Obstacle Race.—1, C. Wirth (Wolves); 2, J. Hulse (Otters).

50 Yards Free Style (Senior).—1, J. Dudley (Wolves); 2, J. Hulse (Otters).

100 Yards Patrol Relay Race.—1, Wolves; 2, Otters.

Patrol Life Saving.—1, Otters; 2, Foxes.

Final Standings.—1, Wolves 37 points; 2, Otters 27 points; 3, Foxes 14 points; 4, Stags 5 points.

Woolens. There is nothing fresh to report regarding Woolens beyond a few isolated sales of "spot" cargo in Yarns and Sundries. The anticipated reduction in the Tariff on Artificial Silk Yarn has not taken place but the Chinese Customs authorities have taken certain steps to prevent smuggling.
